Lenin, Letters addressed to the XIII Congress of the Communist Party of the USSR (December 23, 1922)

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
