Testimony of eight-year-old Sarah Gooder before the Ashley Commission for the Study of Working Conditions in the Mines (1842)

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
